Scott Stamp Monthly for June 2004 reported that Benin postal officials have declared numerous "issues" illegal. Items inscribed "Republic du Benin" that were not authorized by Benin postal officials but which have appeared on the philatelic market in recent months include sheets of nine stamps with various denominations depicting dinosaurs (with Scout emblem) and dinosaurs (without emblems); sheets of six stamps with 100 fr denominations depicting dinosaurs (two different), dinosaurs with Rotary emblem (two different) and prehistoric elephants; sheets of six stamps with various denominations depicting dinosaurs; sheets of two stamps with 500 fr denominations depicting dinosaurs; souvenir sheets of one stamp with 1000 fr denominations depicting dinosaurs with Scout emblem (two different) and dinosaurs without emblems (two different), among many other unauthorized issues.

Kyrgyzstan postal officials have declared as "illegal", among others, a sheet of six with various denominations depicting dinosaurs.

Also, the postal administration of COTE D'IVOIRE (REP.), in a notice reproduced in the March 2004 Biophilately, stated that "We remind member countries of the Universal Postal Union (UPI) that the postal administration of Cote d'ivoire is the victim of illegal postage stamp issues". Among numerous illegal issues is "One vertical miniature sheet depicting various species of dinosaurs in action and containing a series of three stamps each depicting the head of a different dinosaur. From top to bottom, the values shown are 150f, 200f and 250f; each stamp is also inscribed with the year 2003". This set of three illegal stamps was reported as an Ivory Coast new issue in both the December 2003 and the March 2004 issues of Biophilately
